Located near the coastal town of San Simeon, our family’s estate vineyards are focused within the renowned Paso Robles appellation. Steep hillsides and ideal soils produce concentrated grapes. San Simeon Grenache thrives in the unique climate of Paso Robles with warm days and cool nights.

During 2018, the weather was ideal with a long growing season that provided great “hang time” for the grapes. Anthony Riboli and Arnaud Debons employ traditional techniques in their careful crafting of fine wines. This artisan wine is handcrafted in small lots. Grenache grapes are harvested and gently crushed. The skins and juice remain in contact for several hours resulting in a lovely salmon-pink color.

Our Grenache Rosé is fermented in stainless steel tanks at 55° F for several weeks. This long, cold fermentation preserves the delicate flavors and aromas of this variety. Ripe red berry, cantaloupe, and rose petal notes pair well with tuna tartare, prosciutto and melon, and a wide array of appetizers.
