Brachetto D’Acqui

BRACHETTO D’ACQUI DOCG
The northwestern province of Piedmonte is home to Stella Rosa Imperiale Brachetto D’Acqui DOCG, one of the world’s most unique, aromatic, semi-sweet, sparkling red wines. The prized grapes are selected from family-cultivated vineyards in the communes of Asti and Alessandria near the town of Aqui Terme. The topography of each vineyard site is directly related to the DOCG status of this wine; only those sites with calcareous clay and marlstone soils can fall under the highest classification. The hillside vineyards promote ample drainage, contributing to the concentration of the flavor components, while the cool mountain breezes amplify acidity.

Stella Rosa Imperiale Brachetto is crafted under exacting standards using an ultra-modern winery facility. This wine’s uniqueness stems from its intense, concentrated aromas, flavors, natural sweetness, low alcohol, and natural carbonation. The highest-quality Brachetto grape is first soaked with the unfermented juice to achieve a beautiful ruby red, magenta hue. It is then fermented in pressurized stainless steel tanks and bottle-aged.

The wine shows a silky-rich texture with balanced acidity, natural residual sugar, and fine perlage. It expresses delicate flavors of red raspberries and rose petals on the palate. The advanced techniques used in production - long, slow temperature-controlled fermentation - provide the full expression of Brachetto's unique aromas: rose petals and forest strawberries.
